

ático

para flautín y flauta dulce sopranino

montevideo, 2006

graciela paraskevaídis

ático (2006) para flautín y flauta dulce soprano fue compuesta por invitación del duo "Neue Flötentöne" integrado por Anne Horstmann (flautas traveseras) y Dörte Nienstedt (flautas dulces) para la celebración de su décimo aniversario.

- sobreentendiendo que ambos instrumentos son transpositores la indicación de 8ª sonará a la 8ª de la ya existente 8ª.
- la notación a la manera de hoquetus deberá contribuir a considerar ambos instrumentos como uno solo.
- el registro sobreagudo, la velocidad, la articulación y la dinámica deberán generar campos microtonales de "afinación" imprecisa.
- salvo que se indiquen silencios entre cada uno, los recuadros deberán tocarse sin interrupción.
- respirar imperceptiblemente donde sea necesario.
- posición para tocar: intérpretes de pie y enfrentados a cierta distancia.

"ático" tiene varias acepciones:

- natural del Ática o de Atenas.
- perteneciente o relativo a esta región o ciudad.
- uno de los dialectos de la lengua griega.
- último piso de un edificio (donde a menudo se guardan trastos viejos).

The first system of the musical score consists of two staves. The top staff is for the piccolo and the bottom staff is for the soprano flute. Both staves are in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#). The piccolo part features a series of dotted quarter notes, with some notes marked with a staccato (stacc.) symbol. The soprano flute part features a series of quarter notes, with some notes marked with a staccato (stacc.) symbol. The two parts are in a complementary relationship, often moving in parallel motion.

The second system continues the musical score. The piccolo part continues with dotted quarter notes, some marked staccato. The soprano flute part continues with quarter notes, some marked staccato. The melodic lines are consistent with the first system.

The third system continues the musical score. The piccolo part continues with dotted quarter notes, some marked staccato. The soprano flute part continues with quarter notes, some marked staccato. The melodic lines are consistent with the previous systems.

The fourth system concludes the musical score. The piccolo part continues with dotted quarter notes, some marked staccato. The soprano flute part continues with quarter notes, some marked staccato. The melodic lines are consistent with the previous systems. The system ends with a double bar line and repeat signs.
